Paper Submission Instructions

1. Registering a New Account

- (1) New users must first create an account by clicking Register. After submitting your personal details, the system will email you a registration confirmation along with your password. If your email address was previously registered in the system, a notification will appear saying that your email was already registered.
- (2) If you registered an email address and forgot your password, please enter your email address into the Account Name field, leave the Password field empty, and click Enter. The system will send your password to your email inbox.
- (3) If the call for papers deadline has passed, new accounts cannot be registered and the Register button will not be displayed.

If you enter an email address that has not yet created an account, the notification "This email has not yet been registered" will appear.

password:

Enter your email

address in the

will email your email inbox.

2. Submitting Papers

- (1) Register an account (see the section above).
- (2) Log in to your account.
- (3) Click "Submit Paper" for the DADH 2020 Conference. (The interface may differ depending on whether you accessed the conference-provided login page or the ISAS Conference Management System; see pictures below)
- (4) Fill out the data fields and click Submit.
  - a. The user who logged in is automatically listed as the first author. If this is not the first author, please replace the first email address with the first author's email, then fill in the remaining authors' emails in the remaining fields. (Author names will be updated after submission.)
  - b. Select an author to be the Correspondence Author. (This author will receive updates on the paper's uploading and modifications.)
  - c. After clicking Submit, if an author's data is not registered in the system, you will be asked to register that author's basic information (name, organization, email, etc.).
  - d. You may return to modify author or paper information at any time before the call for papers deadline ends.

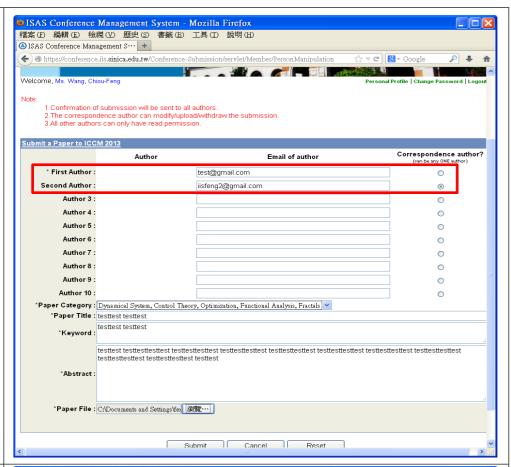

If you logged in from the ISAS
Conference
Management
System, you may see other conferences you have participated in. Locate the DADH 2020 conference and click Submit Paper.

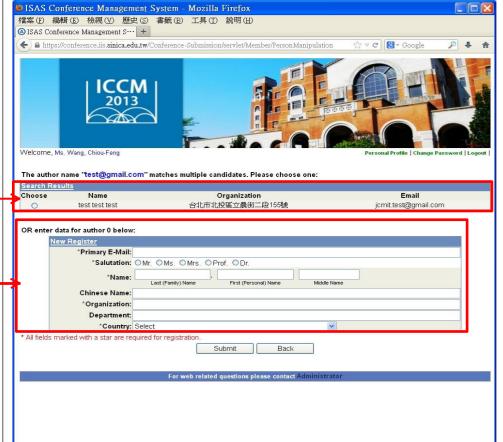

After clicking Submit Paper, please fill in the data fields. The user who logged in is filled in as the First Author by default. If this is not the first author, please replace the first email address with the first author's email, then fill in the remaining authors' emails in the remaining fields. (Author names will be updated after submission.)

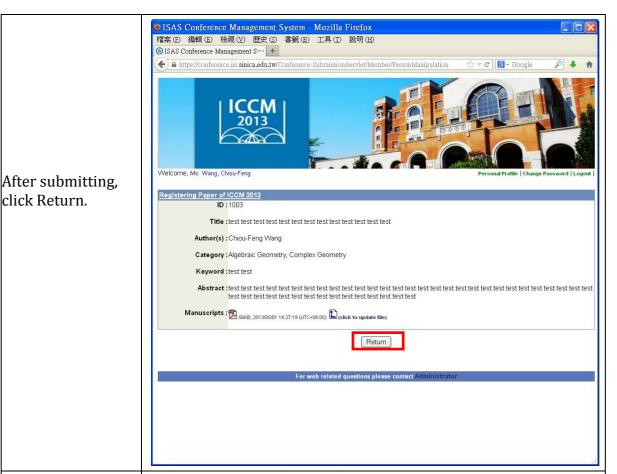

Select an author to be the Correspondence Author. The First Author is selected as the Correspondence Author by default. (This author will receive updates on the paper's uploading and modifications.)

After all relevant fields are filled in. click Submit. If the system does not recognize an author's email as registered, it may suggest a registered account with similar information. If this is the author's account, choose it and click Submit. If this is not the author's account, please enter the author's data in the New Register section and click Submit. (To smoothen the process, it is recommended that all authors register an account before submitting a paper.)

After submitting, you can still view, modify, upload a manuscript, or withdraw your submission at any time before the call for papers deadline. You can also submit additional papers by clicking Submit Paper again.

click Return.

